

MEET OUR FELLOWS

Esther Feliz Terrero
Fordham University

Michael Pratt
Pace University

Kevin Tang
New York University

NEW YORK STATE HOMES AND COMMUNITY RENEWAL

Municipal Finance Fellowship Program

New York State Homes and Community Renewal (HCR) established the Municipal Finance Fellowship program in 1990. The Fellowship offers a year-long, full-time opportunity to gain real-world experience in the public finance industry. Beginning in July of each year, HCR offers up to 4 Fellowships annually to students with interest in pursuing careers in finance and the public sector. The program strives to create a more inclusive and diverse workforce in the financial services industry.

Homes and Community Renewal

Program Description

Fellows will participate in a one-year public finance rotational program, where their time will be shared between HCR and one of three co-sponsoring investment banking firms (Morgan Stanley, Samuel A. Ramirez & Co., Wells Fargo Securities).

At HCR, Fellows will be deeply involved with single-family and multi-family bond financings, real estate finance, and mortgage insurance. At the investment banking firms, Fellows will be immersed in the public-finance investment banking arena. Fellows will receive a compensation package with benefits.

Responsibilities may include:

HCR

- Producing cash flows for new money issues and refunding
- Preparing presentations to rating agencies and Board Members
- Participating in bond pricing calls
- Analyzing retail & institutional orders and allocations
- Evaluating developer proposals for affordable housing developments

Investment Bank

- Preparing RFP responses, presentations, and pitchbooks for potential clients
- Gathering market data to analyze trends, value, and price transactions
- Attending bond pricing calls and sales meetings
- Creating debt structures for bond issuers
- Participating in the analyst training program

In partnership with:

Morgan Stanley

Securities

Qualifications

- Interest in finance, familiarity with governmental institutions, and a willingness to work hard in the pursuit of an exciting and rewarding career.
- Quantitative ability, as demonstrated through courses or work experience, relating to economics, business administration, or mathematics is important, but it is not necessary to have majored in one of these areas.

Eligibility

- The program is open to undergraduate students receiving a Bachelor's degree in May/June of the applying year.
- Applicant must be a resident of New York State and a permanent resident of the United States.
- The program is designed for students who are members of historically under-represented groups in the financial services industry.

Application Materials and Deadline

The application deadline is April 12, 2020

Cover letter – include a narrative on your ethnic, racial, cultural, familial, economic and/or other biographical factors as they have impacted your life and accomplishments

Resume

List three references with their contact information

Unofficial college transcript

Send all materials and questions to municipalfellowship@nyshcr.org.

Visit us at NYSHCR.org for more information