

Sample Programs

Below electives are grouped together to fit certain career or educational goals.

Group I: Student interested in a career in the financial industry

- UN3025 Financial Economics
- UN3265 Economics of Money and Banking
- GU4020 Economics of Uncertainty and Information
- GU4213 Advanced Macroeconomics
- GU4260 Market Design
- GU4280 Corporate Finance
- GU4412 Advanced Econometrics
- GU4413 Econometrics of Time Series
- GU4465 Public Economics
- GU4500 International Trade
- GU4505 International Macroeconomics
- GU4700 Financial Crises
- GU4710 Financial Markets and the Real Economy
- GU4860 Behavioral Finance

Group II: Student interested in a career in an international governmental or non-governmental agency

- GU4228 Urban Economics
- GU4301 Growth and Development
- GU4321 Economic Development
- GU4325 Economic Organization and Development of Japan
- GU4370 Political Economy
- GU4465 Public Economics
- GU4500 International Trade
- GU4505 International Macroeconomics
- GU4625 Economics of the Environment
- GU4750 Globalization and its Risks

Group III: Student interested in a career in international business

- UN3025 Financial Economics
- GU4260 Market Design
- GU4280 Corporate Finance
- GU4301 Growth and Development
- GU4321 Economic Development
- GU4325 Economic Organization and Development of Japan

- GU4500 International Trade
- GU4505 International Macroeconomics

Group IV: Student interested in a career in public policy or the law

- GU4228 Urban Economics
- GU4230 Economics of NYC
- GU4251 Industrial Organization
- GU4260 Market Design
- GU4321 Economic Development
- GU4370 Political Economy
- GU4400 Labor Economics
- GU4438 Economics of Race in the United States
- GU4465 Public Economics
- GU4480 Gender and Applied Economics
- GU4615 Law and Economics
- GU4625 Economics of the Environment
- GU4840 Behavioral Economics
- GU4860 Behavioral Finance

Group V: Student interested in pursuing a PhD in economics

- UN39XX Junior Seminar in Economics
- GU4020 Economics of Uncertainty and Information
- GU4211 Advanced Microeconomics
- GU4213 Advanced Macroeconomics
- GU4251 Industrial Organization
- GU4260 Market Design
- GU4370 Political Economy
- GU4412 Advanced Econometrics
- GU4415 Game Theory
- GU4465 Public Economics
- GU4400 Labor Economics
- GU4480 Gender and Applied Economics
- GU4500 International Trade
- GU4505 International Macroeconomics
- GU4700 Financial Crises
- GU4710 Financial Markets and the Real Economy
- GU4840 Behavioral Economics
- GU4850 Cognitive Mechanisms and Economic Behavior
- GU4860 Behavioral Finance