

Courtroom Ventures Spring Internship

Courtroom Ventures is a new fund which plans to speculate on legal claims. By betting on precisely which legal claims are likely to yield compensation in courts, Courtroom Ventures plans on delivering above market returns on a market uncorrelated asset class.

In delivering on our vision, Courtroom Ventures is looking for a part-time student intern. The ideal candidate will have a strong interest in law and business, as well as excellent research and analytical skills. We are looking for a self-starter who is able to work independently, and who is willing to contribute at least five to ten hours a week to this endeavor. Ideally, the intern is an undergraduate at Columbia University, but applicants from other backgrounds will also be considered.

As far as compensation is concerned, there is room for negotiation. However, the baseline offer is in the low thousands of dollars for the entire Spring semester. There may be a further incentive based compensation arrangement to follow.

Applying to this internship requires neither a resume nor a cover letter. Instead, there will be an in-person interview used to screen candidates.

Interested parties should email the following address: sss2324@columbia.edu